

Application for PAGID List Service Access

PAGID (Pan American Group for Immunodeficiency) is a professional organization of physicians and scientists with an interest in primary immunodeficiencies. The purpose of the group is to enhance collaborations and exchange information among members. We welcome physicians who provide care for patients with immunodeficiencies and scientists who are doing research related to the primary immunodeficiencies who wish to join our group.

This list service is managed by the Clinical Immunology Society. Completed applications must be sent to CIS by email, fax or the postal service to the following address:

PAGID List service Guidelines

Introduction:

This E-mail list service has been set up to provide an easy way for PAGID members to discuss issues of common interest. You can send an email to the server group. Your email will appear in the email file of everyone on the server list. If someone offers advice, that advice also appears in everyone's email. A third person may disagree and join the conversation. We hope to generate many lively discussions. The server group may also be used to look for collaborators or new faculty members. This List service is set up as a communication tool to help you interact with your colleagues. It is closed to the general public.

Guidelines For Posting Messages:

The list-serve reaches a large group of individuals, not all of whom know each other and not all of whom speak English as their first language. Please keep this in mind when sending a message to the group. Here are some specific guidelines to help keep things simple.

1. Do not use this list for commercial purposes or allow anyone else to use this list for commercial purposes.
2. Part of the purpose of the server group is to help us to build a community. To do this, we must be able to identify each other. At the end of your message, sign your email with your name, institution, address, phone number, fax number and email address. This will also allow people to contact you directly if they have a message that is not of general interest.
3. Do not send attachments in your message (attachments are files from another software program on your hard drive). Because people use a variety of different software programs, attachments cannot generally be opened by the entire group.
4. Your writing is a reflection of professionalism. Please spell check your messages and use the same rules for grammar and politeness that you would use in a paper letter. CAPITAL LETTERS ARE SEEN AS SHOUTING WORDS. Please use respect for your colleagues.
5. Keep 'Subject' lines relevant. If the topic changes, change the 'Subject.'

We ask that all participants adhere to these guidelines in order to facilitate reasonable discussion, enhance the quality of the service and to make life easier for everyone who reads the list.
